Laa Mie!

I am writing to you from the Co-Phobble Obbee Map Room, where I am staring at a large map of our Island and thinking about a Treasure Hunt. There are so many places to hide things here. Wherever you look there are mysteries and secrets. All you need is a keen pair of eyes and a sense of adventure!

Perhaps it is time for you all to find something hidden?

Do you remember the magnifying glass I sent you as a gift? You will need it. You see, we've been pretty sneaky. Whenever I have sent you one of my long letters, I have hidden some secret information. I have hidden some lines from a magical Manx charm. And as a bonus, I have hidden some letters which spell out a brilliant Manx word!

Where are these secret messages hidden? If you don't mind spoilers, I will tell you.

Did you keep the envelopes the letters were in? If you did, take your magnifying glasses and inspect those envelopes closely. Maybe you will find something. Make a note of anything you discover. Next month you can expect another envelope from me – this will complete the special poem and will help you find the secret password.

If you cannot find the envelopes, never fear – this was one of our bonus challenges, just to keep you on your toes. The crafty Co-Phobble Obbee Treasure Hunt will begin next month. In the meantime, keep your eyes open. You never know what you might find.

Golden wishes from your favourite mischievous guardian,

DORRYS
